Voluntary Testimonials

—GIVEN TO—
DR. WOH,
 The Eminent Chinese Physician.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and untiring observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservedly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful persons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicines seemed to do me good. I consulted the best physicians and surgeons in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. After suffering great pain and having my passage almost entirely closed, I four days ago began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Today I am perfectly well. I do consider Dr. Woh the most successful physician in Southern California.
C. A. STEELE,
 310 and 318 S. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal.
 October 13, 1901.

I have tried many doctors for heart disease but have derived no benefit until Dr. Woh, the Chinese physician, of Los Angeles City, prescribed for me.
 Two months ago I began his treatment and can now certify that he has done me great good. I recommend Dr. Woh to my friends as an able doctor.

 Justice of the Peace, Burbank, Cal.

Dr. Woh has hundreds of similar testimonials, but space alone prevents further publication of them here.
 Dr. Woh is the oldest and best-known Chinese Physician in Southern California. His many cures have been remarkable, involving Female Troubles, Tumors and every form of disease.
 Free consultation to every one and all are cordially invited to call upon Dr. Woh at his office.

THE NEW LAW COLLEGE.

Opening of the Institution Last Evening.

Interesting Lecture by President John W. Mitchell.

What the Institution Expects to be Able to Accomplish.

A Hitherto Unfilled Field in Los Angeles—Who the Faculty are—The Course of Lectures—Business and Law.

The Southern California College of Law was formally opened last night in the rooms of the Los Angeles Business College on South Main street. It is intended that students shall secure instruction in the law and acquire a thorough knowledge of its fundamental principles, and that those who desire shall be fitted for practice at the bar.

FACULTY AND LECTURES.
 The faculty and roll of lectures of the new institution are as follows:

Law Faculty—Constitutional Law, Judge Walter Van Dyke; common and statute law, John W. Mitchell, chairman of the faculty; equity jurisprudence, Judge James A. Anderson; probate law (including wills, descent and distribution of estate of decedents), Judge William H. Clark; the law, as illustrated by leading cases, Judge A. W. Hutton; commercial law, Edward E. Powers; criminal law, Judge William A. Cheney; pleading, practice and evidence, Judge Lucien Shaw; the history and literature of the law and medical jurisprudence, Frank Howard.

Special Lectures and Lecturers—Advocacy, Stephen M. White; agents, Henry Blecker; attachment and garnishment, Judge William F. Wade; bailments, Percy R. Wilson; contracts, Cornelius F. Cronin; insolvency and assignments, H. W. Latham; international law, George J. Smith; labor and tenancy, Judge J. H. Hatch; parliamentary law, R. F. del Valle; partnership, G. Wiley Wells; pleading and practice in the Federal courts, George J. Smith; private corporations, Judge John Haynes; receivers, John S. Maltman; riparian rights and law of water in California, S. V. Landi; stay laws—laws of exemption and limitation, Judge T. J. Wilson; and the measure of damages for torts, Judge Alexander Campbell; uses and trusts, M. L. Graft.

OPENING EXERCISES.
 Last evening the exercises opened with music, followed by an address from Prof. Schrader, after which John W. Mitchell, Esq., president of the college, delivered the opening lecture, in the course of which he said:

The press has always been a thorn in the side of evil-doers. Such was the case even many years ago in England. It is true that there are a few papers whose business affairs control their editors, but the rule, the press is a bulwark which cannot be overestimated.

The merchant, broker and business man would find general knowledge of the law, relating to contracts, recording, frauds, etc., additional capital. Managers of corporations should also keep themselves thoroughly informed as to the growing laws relating to corporations. Architects and mechanics are interested in many branches of law, such as mechanics' liens. Furthermore a certain degree of legal knowledge tends to expand the understanding. Clergymen and teachers would be improved by a study of the law.

Woman's work is constantly expanding. There are entering the lists with men as becoming competitors in the pursuits of life. They, also, need legal knowledge. More especially is this the case with those women who are owners of property, whether they are married or single. The courts are full of instances where scheming adventurers and lawyers have obtained the fortunes of women through their total ignorance of the law.

The speaker here referred to the Hopkins-Searies will case, and continuing said:
 There are many successful women practitioners. In France, where the examinations are very severe, a woman recently took the lead of 500 candidates.
 The speaker then glanced at the growth of legal lore, continuing as follows:

According to Blackstone prior to the twelfth century the collection of laws known as the common law was chiefly taught in the monasteries. Common law was never systematically taught in universities until the fourteenth century. In America, until recent years, instruction has chiefly been obtained from private sources and especially in law offices. In this study students have, to a great extent, failed to acquire a proper knowledge of the rudiments of the law. Hence law schools have of late been constantly growing in favor and have come to be regarded as almost necessary in the study of law.

The promoters of this enterprise observed the need of such an educational institution as this in Southern California. The plan of instruction contemplates innovation which, it is believed, will be found improvements. There will be studies by recitation and lecture, also by text books. The law college will be conducted in connection with the business college, which is believed, will prove a very valuable feature, cases being brought up in one department and settled in the other.
 The practice of the law in America is very different from that in England, now or in Blackstone's time. Here the lawyer must be solicitor, barrister, clerk and, to a great extent, business man. Keeping in mind the importance of the American lawyer than Greek, Latin or French.
 The gentlemen who have agreed to help in this enterprise—able, conscientious men—do not want any present commensurate compensation. It is their efficient aid that makes this enterprise possible. As to myself, I say with Judge Tucker that I am well aware of the difficulty of the task of instructing youth and only trust that my untiring zeal may tend to expedite your studies. I seek no personal aggrandizement.
 Concluding, Mr. Mitchell addressed a few words to those who were ambitious to become members of the bar, showing the onerous nature of their undertaking, which involved great labor, but at the same time held out great prizes. The aim of the law is a most noble one, though often perverted by the unworthy.
 At the conclusion the speaker was greeted with loud applause and the exercises were brought to a close by a solo on the piano by Gus Goldschmidt.

AN EASTERN EXPERT
 Makes Some Criticisms on California Fruits.

The following letter from Prof. W. A. Henry, Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Wisconsin, to N. W. Blanchard of Santa Paula, Ventura county, contains several valuable suggestions to fruit-growers and shippers.

Which might be headed to their advantage. The worthless oranges complained of were probably some that had been affected by frost, or had hung on the trees too long. The faults are none of them inherent in the fruit, and might all be remedied in the handling:

MADISON (Wis.), July 22, 1891.
 N. W. Blanchard, Santa Paula, Cal.—DEAR SIR: Perhaps you had better not have gotten out marketing last summer and brief visit on the motor train returning from the Sweet Water dam during the Knight Templars' visit to San Diego. I was then setting out a grove of Eureka lemons at Santa Vista, just north of National City, and was greatly interested in your work because I had read of it, and had frequently examined your lemons then for sale at fruit stands in San Diego. The immediate cause of the letter is the fact that I have had the pleasure of purchasing oranges from two boxes found at different times in the best fruit and provision store in this city. Both boxes were marked "Havana seedlings." The first box, which came about four weeks ago, contained 200 oranges and cost the merchant $8 in Chicago. Some of the oranges had seeds, and some as though they had been hit with ballistics, otherwise they were all right as to appearance. The second box contained 150 oranges. All of the fruits were marked "Havana seedlings." The fruits were high colored, tender, juicy and quite sweet, those of the first box especially so. I am constantly studying the oranges that come to our markets, and desire to say, without flattery, that the fruit of these two boxes far exceeds the average Riverside fruit; indeed I should prefer these oranges to any except the very choice of Riverside and Navel, when the latter are fresh, for many of the Navel reach us that are stale and only second or third quality. I regret to say that many California oranges are exceedingly poor. Every year I purchase a few specimens of Navel that we cannot use at all, but are forced to throw them away without even tasting. The cause of this I do not know. The fruits are fair to look upon, but almost as dry as a sponge inside. I have paid 75 cents a dozen for Riverside Navel, and not had one fruit in the dozen that was fit to eat. Such things hurt California seriously. On the other hand, such fruit as these two boxes of yours are a satisfaction to the purchaser, who three times out of four will return and call for more of the same kind of fruit. California apricots and plums are other fruits that are very unsatisfactory at the East. Both are very fine to look at, but very disappointing to the taste. The market for them will be exceedingly limited, no buyer purchasing a second time if he is wise. For good oranges there would be an unlimited demand.

 From all reports my lemon orchard is progressing finely. It is now about one year set out, and has made most excellent growth. Accept a copy of our last annual report, and believe me
 Most respectfully,
 W. A. HENRY.

Wanted to be a Policeman.
 The San Bernardino Courier of Tuesday has the following:

Last Saturday a well-dressed, good-looking, middle-aged man stepped into the office of Marshal Thomas and informed that officer that he was a resident of Los Angeles and had been sent to him to secure a position on the police force. The marshal told him that he had plenty of men, and that if he wanted money there were plenty here without importing them from Los Angeles. About this time Officer Patton noticed the peculiar actions of the man, and immediately called the marshal's attention to his manner. Soon after this the same man returned to the city hall and went through to the clerk's office, where he informed Clerk Harris that the president of the board of trustees was an Anarchist and that he was an Anarchist and a correspondent for several Anarchist papers, and had written this fact to them. He soon left the clerk's office and has not been seen since.

Gave Bail.
 Jerry Harris, the hack-driver who was arrested in San Diego a few days ago on a charge of seducing a Los Angeles girl and was held by Police Justice Owens to appear before the Superior Court for trial with bail fixed at $1500, was again before Justice Owen yesterday and gave bail.

He will probably go back to San Diego and induce his wife to get a divorce so that he can marry the seducing witness and save himself a long term in one of the State's prisons.

The decennial edition of the Los Angeles Times was a fitting monument to its pluck and perseverance. As evidence of the growth of the city and country it was interesting, but to a newspaper man it was still more so as a proof of what steady, persistent work will do when backed by capital and brains. THE TIMES may well be proud of its ten year's record, and the Cultivator extends congratulations and hopes to be present to help celebrate ten years hence.

MICHIGAN Democrats are not a happy lot. After committing every political sin possible against that State, they are now quarreling among themselves over the Soper affair and in speaking of each other use such terms as "dishonest hogs," "blackmailers," etc. It begins to look as though honest men may soon have a chance to come at their due in Michigan.

COMMENTING on some of the aristocratic charities in New York the Commercial Advertiser suggests the revision of some well-remembered biblical texts to read as follows: "Snobbery never faileth; snobbery suffereth long and is kind; snobbery envieth not; snobbery vaunteth not itself. And now abide faith, hope and snobbery, these three; but the greatest of these is snobbery."

MEMBERS of the Salvation Army are practicing a piece of impertinence in this city which should be stopped. Some of the red-shirted gentry have a way of calling at private residences, ringing the front door-bell and offering to sell a copy of the "War Cry." It is all right for them to sell their papers on the streets and in public places as others do, but when it comes to subjecting citizens to such annoyances at their homes the thing is carried too far.

THE world-famous people who "went over to the majority" during the year 1891 made up a company rather larger than an average year claims. They were: Admiral Porter, Gen. W. T. Sherman, Gen. H. H. FLORIDA has made a good beginning in shipping oranges to English markets, and proposes to follow it up. It is now considered that the trade justifies running a line of steamers direct from Jacksonville to Liverpool. In an interview with the Florida Times-Union, E. L. Goodsell says:

From the first of September to the middle of December there is no Mediterranean fruit in the English market, and the oranges from Florida just fill the gap. Then the people have suddenly acquired a taste for our fruit. The prices obtained are far in advance of what the same would have brought in the American market, or the Mediterranean fruit in the English market. The freight to New York is about 45 cents per box, with 10 per cent. commissions added. The voyage to Liverpool will not be at the most more than twenty-four hours longer, and the freight per box will only be 50 cents, with about 10 cents added for market expenses and 10 per cent. for commissions—say a total of 60 cents per box and commissions. This is only 15 cents per box in excess of expense of shipping the fruit to New York. At the very outside figure, $1 per box would cover freight, expenses, commissions, etc., on the fruit, delivered in Liverpool or London. In addition to the demand in England, Germany, France, Belgium and Russia will take large quantities of our fruit. Russia is the greatest consumer of oranges among the European nations, and she likes them sour too.

One of the vessels will leave Jacksonville next fall, about October 10, the other early in November, and the third, fourth, etc., will follow in rapid succession as the business warrants. These vessels can carry from 25,000 to 35,000 boxes of oranges each and can make a round trip per month from Jacksonville to Liverpool.

On their return trip, they will carry west-bound freight to the Atlantic ports as may be offered.

OUR FAMOUS CAPTAINS.

The Great Books for Veteran Soldiers and American Citizens.

There are thousands of comrades who fought during the war under the leadership of the four great generals, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and McClellan, who would have purchased the memoirs of these historic captains when published had the price been placed at a reasonable figure. There is an opportunity now, however, as the Cosmopolitan Magazine of New York has purchased 600,000 volumes of the memoirs in the original subscription editions, bound in green and gold cloth, and is almost giving them away in connection with yearly subscriptions to that popular magazine. They contain the personal history of the great commanders, and form an indispensable part of the history of the country. No library, private or public, large or little, is complete without them.

By special contract THE TIMES is enabled to give its readers the benefit of this great offer, which is fully explained in our advertising pages. Never has a book had such a sale in the United States as "Gen. Grant's Memoirs." Over 650,000 copies have already gone into the homes of the rich, but the subscription price of $7 has placed it beyond the reach of people in moderate circumstances. If 650,000 people have been willing to pay $7 for "Grant's Memoirs," there must be some thousands more in California who will want them at the low price for which they are now offered by us. The edition which we are offering is the publishers' original edition, best paper, cloth, green and gold binding, hitherto sold by subscription for $7. Our offer is an extraordinary one.

An Appeal From Russia.

We are in receipt of a circular from Francis J. Garrison, treasurer of the Society of American Friends of Russian Freedom, office No. 4 Park street, Boston, containing a strong appeal for relief for the starving Russian peasantry. The circular states that, hitherto it has been difficult to send any aid to Russia. Not only is the Russian government unwilling to receive it officially, but there have been no persons acceptable who could receive and distribute private contributions in such a way that they would be sure to reach the sufferers. Countess Tolstol has communicated with American and English people in such a way that it is now possible to extend American aid to these people, whose sufferings she describes as much more extended and severe than we have any idea of. Her testimony is almost the first reliable information that we have had, and it is of such a nature that the feelings of our common humanity are deeply aroused. It is a relief to know that the benevolent and charitable can now communicate with these Russian peasants through persons who will faithfully distribute any contributions which are intrusted to them. The Society of American Friends of Russian Freedom has undertaken to receive American contributions for the famine sufferers; all sums sent to the treasurer at the address above given will be promptly acknowledged and forwarded to the Countess Tolstol.

Count Tolstol has addressed a long communication to the Russian papers on the subject of the famine. He described it as "a catastrophe, beyond comparison, worse than any flood, and beyond comparison more general." The failure of crops, he goes on to say, "has extended over a full third of Russia, and that third is just the most fertile part of the country; it is the part upon which the remaining two-thirds have always depended for sustenance. In the second place, the harvest has failed also in the neighboring countries; and, therefore, a large quantity of corn has already been exported from Russia. Wheat, indeed, is still being exported. In the third place, there are not, and cannot be, in Russia this year any stores of old corn, such as there were, for instance, in the famine year of 1840."

The count further speaks of the panic created by the famine as "a terror which people catch, like infection, one from another, and which paralyzes their power of acting in concert. This panic shows itself in the successive prohibition of the export of first of rye, then of other kinds of grain (wheat, for some reason, excepted), and also in such contradictory measures as, on the one hand, the assigning of large sums for the relief of the distressed, and, on the other, the collecting of taxes by the local authorities. The panic is also strikingly noticeable in the ever-increasing disagreements between the various local jurisdictions. As is always the case in times of epidemic terror, some rush one way and some another. A further proof of the panic is the attitude and behavior of the people—for instance, the general rush for work and the desperate swaying of the masses to and fro from country to town, and from town to country. Does not this clearly prove the frenzy with which the people are possessed? All these signs, the panic especially, are grave and significant, and show that we have good cause for fear. The enemy—a terrible enemy—stands right before us, and it is useless to say we are not afraid of him; for we know that he is here, and in our hearts we know that we are afraid of him."

It would seem that some organized effort to raise funds for the relief of the famine sufferers should be made in Los Angeles. Would it not be an excellent idea for the Mayor to call a meeting of citizens to discuss ways and means, and start a subscription? Many charitably-disposed people would contribute to the fund if there were somebody to lead off.

A Severe Blow to Fruit-growers.

Orange-growers of Southern California realize very forcibly this year that misfortunes never come singly; or as Shakespeare puts it,
One woe doth tread upon another's heel,
So fast they follow.

The severe windstorms which occurred December 10 and 11 were very destructive to both crops and trees in the San Gabriel Valley and along the foothills. The damage varied a good deal in different localities, the Azusa section, at the head of the valley, suffering the worst. The estimates of loss on crops varied from 10 to 75 per cent. San Bernardino county seemed to go almost scot free. Orange county suffered but little, and San Diego, Santa Barbara and Ventura were hardly touched.

But Jack Frost was lying in wait for those who escaped the first ordeal. The cold snap that prevailed in the latter part of December did much more damage to the fruit crop than the winds had done. A gentleman from Santa Ana who called at THE TIMES office yesterday thinks that the citrus fruit crop of that section will be almost a total loss. The thermometer fell there on the coldest night to 24°. The leaves on many of the trees are as white as though they had been painted, and oranges show that they were frozen to the depth of a quarter of an inch. The full damage to the fruit may not become apparent until the sun has had a chance to shine upon it for a week or two. Even if the fruit hangs on the tree to apparent maturity, it will be found that all that which was touched by frost is tasteless and unmarketable.

In the San Gabriel Valley the damage was more or less severe. Col. J. R. Dobbin estimates his loss from wind and frost at one-third of his crop. An extensive grower at Azusa says that out of an anticipated crop of 8000 boxes he expects to gather not more than 500 or 1000 boxes.

A gentleman who has a fine lemon orchard at North Ontario reports that the thermometer fell to 26° at his place. There is not a lemon left on his trees. From the highlands of San Bernardino county come reports of extensive damage to nursery stock. Whether the fruit there is much hurt is not stated. There is a report that the thermometer went very low at Riverside and that much of the fruit there was injured. Ventura county seems to have escaped pretty fairly. The most extensive grower of citrus fruits in that county, N. W. Blanchard of Santa Paula, estimates his loss as very slight.

The damage to trees lies mainly in the freezing down of nursery stock and young plantings, though bearing orchards have suffered some in the nipping of tender growths and the backset which will result from loss of leaves.

This is undoubtedly the most destructive frost that Southern California has experienced for eight years—and perhaps equals in damage the hard freeze of eight years ago. The loss is of course much greater because there are so many more orchards to suffer.

Experts in the orange trade are unable to give any accurate estimate of the scaling down of the product. In the early part of the season it was thought that Southern California would be able to export this year from 4500 to 5000 carloads of citrus fruits. It is now doubtful whether half that quantity will be available. If this be the case, then the loss to the citrus industry of Southern California is more than $1,000,000 in fruit alone.

We regret exceedingly to give such a discouraging report, and for that reason have awaited confirmatory statements of loss before presenting it. But it is better to face the issue fairly and squarely and let everybody prepare himself to meet it. There will be ups and downs in every branch of business. Last year proved exceedingly prosperous for fruit-growers all along the line. They must take the streak of lean along with the streak of fat if they are banqueting with fortune.

"The Eagle."

Twenty more masters and maids of Miss Louise Lyde's department (6th and 7th grades) of the Santa Monica schools committed and recited "The Eagle" within the time prescribed, though there was some unavoidable delay in forwarding the certificates. The paper and chart promised by THE TIMES as a prize to winners will be sent to each of the successful ones. This addition swells the list to 142 winners.

TOMORROW evening Secretary Blaine is to attend a dinner in Boston, and of course, will make a speech. Politicians are on the qui vive for it and hope that it will throw some light on the situation as regards his candidacy for the Presidential office. They will probably be disappointed. He would be foolish to announce his intention to be a candidate and he would be foolish to decline to be a candidate before the nomination is tendered him. He is too old in politics to do either.

An evidence of the unfairness of the gerrymander is adduced from the last election in Ohio. While McKinley carried 54 of the 88 counties, he had pluralities in only 7 of the 21 Congressional districts.

CONGRESS IN SESSION.

Proposed Inquiry Into the World's Fair Management.

Senator Stewart Advances a Novel Proposition About Silver.

Proposed Law to Put a Quietus on Dynamiting Cranks.

McMillin Presiding in Speaker Crisp's Place—A Deluge of Several Hundred New Measures Turned Loose in the House.

By Telegram to THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Mr. Henderson of Iowa introduced in the House a lengthy resolution concerning the World's Fair, settling forth the appropriations and present status of the exposition and providing in order that Congress be fully advised concerning the progress and expenditures, the amounts available for the work and necessary to complete the same, that an inquiry be made to ascertain whether those obligated have complied with the requirements of the law enacted; whether the money has been judiciously expended; whether the number of employees and appointees is excessive and their compensation reasonable or otherwise; that copies of monthly pay rolls of all officers and appointees be transmitted to Congress for full information, and all other points pertinent to the inquiry. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

STEWART'S SILVER BOMBHELL.

Senator Stewart of Nevada added a new feature to the silver question today by the introduction of a resolution founded on the proposition that holders of silver bullion are entitled, under an existing law never repealed as far as the Senator can ascertain, to free coinage of the silver. The resolution directs the Committee on Judiciary to inquire if any further legislation is necessary to make it the duty of the proper officers of the mint to receive and coin silver bullion for the benefit of depositors.

Senator Stewart said: "It is provided in the act of 1837 that gold and silver bullion brought to the mint for coinage shall be received and coined by the proper officers for the benefit of the depositor, and there is no other mode or manner provided for coinage in that act. The Bland act of 1878 revives the law of 1837. The omission to enforce this provision is unaccountable. It appears to have been overlooked by all parties. I have examined the question and failed to find any repeal or notification of the statute. I shall be surprised if the Judiciary Committee does not find that as a matter of law it is the duty of officers of the mint to coin silver bullion into dollars at the rate of sixteen to one for the benefit of depositors."

SOME CALIFORNIA MEASURES.

Mr. Bowers of California introduced a bill in the House providing that no person shall be entitled to make a declaration of intention to become a citizen until he has been a resident of this country five years, and that five years shall elapse between the declaration and issuing of papers. Not more than ten certificates shall be issued by any one court on the same day.

A bill was introduced today by Mr. Geary of California for the foreclosure of the mortgages of the Union and Central Pacific Railways. It directs that unless the bonds held by the United States be paid, principal and interest when matured, shall be the assets of the road and the lines and land grants of the companies forfeited. A Government commission of seven persons is provided for, to have control of the management of the roads.

CHICAGO'S MODEST WANTS.

Mr. Hitt of Illinois for Representative Taylor introduced a bill to erect a public building on the present postoffice site in Chicago for use as a postoffice, United States Courts, United States sub-treasury, United States collector's, and other necessary offices of the Government, the building to be so constructed as to occupy all the vacant area of the present site. It is provided that the building shall be ready for occupancy within eighteen months, and $4,000,000 is appropriated.

AN ANTI-CRANK MEASURE.

The recent attempts and threatened attempts against the lives of prominent people by cranks led Representative McCreary of Kentucky to introduce a bill today to regulate the sale of dynamite and other high explosives.

TO AID IRRIGATION.

Senator Kyle introduced a bill appropriating $8,000,000, to be used under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture for the purpose of sinking artesian wells in the arid districts and for the encouragement of agriculture, not more than $800,000 to be used in any one State.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS. FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—The resumption of the business of the session after the close of the holiday recess was marked by a full attendance of Senators, particularly on the Republican side of the chamber. Vice-President Morton occupied the chair. The usual mass of petitions was presented, comprising several in favor of a $5,000,000 loan to the Columbian Exposition on condition of the fair being kept closed on Sunday.

A number of bills and memorials were then presented; among the former were the following:

By Mr. Peffer: To establish a bureau of irrigation and prescribe the duties thereof; to increase the circulating medium by issuing treasury notes based on gold and silver coin and bullion, and to amend the coinage laws accordingly; to amend the Interstate Commerce Act, and prohibit options, trusts and combinations.

By Mr. Washburn: A joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to employ any United States vessel for the purpose of conveying contributions to the inhabitants of those provinces of Russia suffering from the want of food, and if necessary to charter a vessel for that purpose.

He asked for immediate consideration of the President's message on the same subject, which was laid before the Senate. It was amended by reducing the appropriation to $1,000,000, and was then passed 40 to 9.

The negative votes on Mr. Washburn's Russia resolution were by Messrs. Bates, Berry, Chilton, Coke, Harris, Jones (Ark.), Kyle, Pugh and Vest, and Mr. Carlisle stated if he had not been paired he would have voted no.

and says that the responses have been such as to justify the belief that a ship's cargo can soon be delivered at the seaboard. He states that the Secretary of the Navy has at his disposal no steam vessel that could be used for the transportation of these supplies, and, therefore, recommends that he be authorized to charter a suitable vessel to be sent under charge of a naval officer to Russia.

The commission of G. W. Perkins as Senator to succeed the late Senator Plumb was presented and Mr. Perkins took the oath of office.

Various additional bills were introduced and referred, among them being a bill to regulate rates of pensions and to prohibit free railroad passes except in certain cases.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Stewart and referred to the Judicial Committee instructing the committee to inquire whether any further legislation is necessary to compel the proper officers of the mint to receive and coin silver bullion for the benefit of depositors.

Mr. Vance was sworn in as Senator for his new term.

The resolution offered by Mr. Vest December 10, requesting the President to cause the correspondence and communications held through the Department of State or otherwise with the British authorities for the purpose of securing the abrogation or modification of the regulations which require American cattle to be slaughtered at the port of entry, etc., was taken up and advocated by Mr. Vest.

Mr. Hale treated the regulations in question as marked instances of Great Britain's inconsistency in the matter of free trade. That nation was constantly preaching on free trade, objecting in every way to protection as embodied in the statutes of the United States, and yet under the form of quarantine regulations she was actually prohibiting the exportation from the United States to Great Britain of live animals, establishing a complete prohibitory tariff.

Mr. Vest deprecated the introduction of a tariff discussion on the resolution. Great Britain's action was based ostensibly on the fact that there had been sporadic cases of pleuro-pneumonia found in exported American cattle.

That those cases had been largely exaggerated in England from mercenary motives had been made, he thought, fully apparent by the report of the Senate Select Committee. If after the State Department called the attention of the British government to the subject and calmly presented all the facts, showing that no diseased cattle were exported from the United States, the British authorities refused to treat American cattle justly, he (Mr. Vest) would not be found lagging when the Senator from Maine proposed most extreme measures in order to remove the outrage.

After some further discussion the resolution was adopted.

Among the bills introduced were: For a local government for Utah Territory; prohibiting free passes on railroads except in certain cases.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

The scene on the floor of the House this morning was a lively one. There was a large attendance of members and visitors. At noon the House was called to order. The clerk stated that he regretted to announce the illness of the Speaker and declared that the only business in order was the election of a Speaker in order.

On motion of Mr. Springer of Illinois Mr. McMillin of Tennessee was elected.

Upon taking the chair he was warmly applauded by his party colleagues.

Mr. Catching, from the Committee on Rules, reported a resolution providing that today shall be considered "bill day" when public bills shall be introduced under the call of the States and private bills shall be presented through petition. The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. Mills of Texas was granted an indefinite leave of absence.

Messrs. Wilson of Kentucky and Buchanan of Virginia appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

The House then engaged in the work of referring measures introduced by members under the call of States. Every Representative was fortified with a large number of measures and the prospects are that the call will not be completed within two days.

Mr. Kilgore of Texas objected to a request of Mr. Blount of Georgia for the establishment of a gun factory at Benicia, also, prohibiting aliens from holding offices of trust under the Government.

By Mr. McKenna of California: To extend the bonded period of distilled spirits; also, to encourage silk culture in California.

By Mr. Townsend of Colorado: For the free coinage of silver.

By Mr. Boatner of Louisiana: For the improvement of the Mississippi River; also proposing a constitutional amendment to prohibit lotteries.

By Mr. Chipman of Massachusetts: To prevent aliens from holding certain positions and doing certain work in the United States, being designed to check the evils complained of by labor organizations of aliens working daily in the United States while residents of Canada.

By Mr. Morse of Massachusetts: To repeal the long and short haul and pooling clauses of the Interstate Commerce Act; also to prevent the opening on Sunday of any exposition where appropriations made by the United States are expended.

By Mr. Andrew of Massachusetts: Placing raw wool, coal and iron ore on the free list; also repealing the law authorizing the purchase of silver.

By Mr. O'Neill of Missouri: To reduce letter postage to 1 cent.

By Mr. Kern of Nebraska: For an adequate volume of full legal-tender coin and paper money, classification of the funds in the treasury and establishment of a general system of Government banking.

By Mr. O'Donnell of Michigan: To extend the free mail delivery in rural communities; appropriating $8,000,000 for the first year.

By Mr. Caldwell of Ohio: To prevent the desecration of the United States flag.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Heavy betting at the pool-rooms today in Oakland on two Eastern races led to disclosures that apparently show that Eastern bookmakers have been victimized to the extent of many thousands of dollars. In a game held at Guttenberg, Congress, despite the fact that the odds were 8 to 1 against, was backed to win by a couple of sporting men, who also placed considerable money on Rosa G. at 4 to 1 in St. Louis. Local bookmakers found that these men stood to win $4100 if Congress and Rosa took first places. This aroused suspicions which were not allayed when cipher dispatches were received from those points announcing that both horses had won.

Inquiry was made by telegram to New York and a reply was received by the bookmakers to the effect that an organized effort had been made to swindle the pool rooms by means of bogus dispatches, and it was stated that among others Omaha bookmakers had lost $6000 and Kansas City and Denver men $3000 each in this way. Full details of the plan have not yet been received.

OMAHA (Nebr.) Jan. 5.—Referring to the pool-room story from San Francisco it is stated that bookmakers here were equally as suspicious as the Oakland men and refused to pay debts until the returns from New York were verified. The strangers took the alarm and disappeared.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5.—The pool-room swindlers mentioned in the San Francisco dispatch, swindled the Maibly & Gleason Company out of $4000 this afternoon. When the proprietors discovered the fraud they had the men arrested.

STEAMER WRECKED.

The Telephone Lost at the Mouth of the Willamette.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer Telephone went ashore at the mouth of the Willamette River this morning. There were eighty-five passengers aboard. They were all transferred to the steamer Undine, which passed the scene soon after the accident, and were brought to this city.

From the pilot, who has just reached the city, it is learned that a heavy fog was hanging over the river at the time. Just before the steamer struck, he realized his dangerous position and stopped the vessel, but owing to the strong current she was carried down stream. Seeing this, he started her up stream again, and had proceeded some distance when the steamer ran aground on the breakwater, which, owing to the high stage of the river, was completely submerged. The vessel soon began to fill and her stern to slowly sink.

The vessel is now completely under water with the exception of the bow, which is supported and held fast by the breakwater. Had it not been for the latter fact the vessel would have sunk in seventy feet of water and the fate of the passengers would have been extremely doubtful. The value of the freight aboard did not exceed $500. It is impossible now to estimate the amount of the damage. The steamer was valued at about $60,000.

Arrived Safe in Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The Cruiser Baltimore, which arrived here today, brought up from Valparaiso Capt. Dickenson of the ship Rappahannock and the latter's wife and two daughters. The Rappahannock was bound from Cardiff to San Francisco with a cargo of coal, but the cargo took fire off Juan Fernandez Island and the vessel was totally destroyed. The Captain and crew remained on the island three weeks and were then taken off by a passing vessel and conveyed to Valparaiso. The Baltimore went to Mare Island tonight.

Lives Lost by Negligence.

SALEM (Or.) Jan. 5.—The State Board of Railway Commissioners finds that the accident on the Union Pacific Railroad, near La Grande, December 29, in which three persons were killed, was due to the negligence of the company. The board says that the engine was not suited to the track.

Self-defense Theory Abandoned. FRESNO, Jan. 5.—The theory of self-defense has been abandoned in the case of James H. Murphy for killing William McKay at Fresno Flats, in the eastern portion of this county, last Saturday. The trouble arose in a dispute over a mining claim and Murphy shot McKay dead.

Off on a Sealing Cruise.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), Jan. 5.—The sealing schooner Beatrice, forty-nine tons, owned in this port, sailed this afternoon on a sealing cruise. She will sail south to about San Diego, where seals appear, and work up north. She is the first of the British Columbia fleet out.

Mrs. Hedpeth Continues Nuts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Florence A. Waterman, the supposed wife of Marion Hedpeth, the St. Louis train robber, still keeps an obstinate silence. Detective Tracy of St. Louis is expected here Thursday with the necessary papers for the return of the woman to that city.

McKee Rankin Sues for Divorce.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—McKee Rankin, the well-known actor, has begun a suit in this city for divorce from his wife, whom he married in Boston in 1869. He alleges desertion on the part of Mrs. Rankin as the ground for the divorce.

On Trial for Train-wrecking.

ATBURN, Jan. 5.—At the trial of Al Roberts today for train-wrecking the testimony given showed that just before the wreck the track was in good condition and that the track had been tampered with.

Detectives Withdrawn from the American Legation at Santiago.

Uncle Sam's Suit Against the Robert and Minnie Dismissed.

Arrival of the Baltimore at San Francisco—Interview with Capt. Schley—Shields Put in a Claim for Damages.

By Telegram to the Times.

New York, Jan. 6.—[By the Associated Press.] The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent says: "The government cablegram to Minister Montt at Washington, of which I notified you yesterday, contained a withdrawal of the offensive paragraphs in Matta's reply to President Harrison's message. The dispatch also included an analysis of the Valparaiso Procurator Fiscal's report on the evidence taken by Judge Foster in the Baltimore inquiry. The report shows glaring mistakes in the summing up of the testimony, but the final arguments that Gomez Ahumada and Rodriguez should be punished, will, without doubt, be carried out.

"The festivities tomorrow and Tuesday in celebration of the inauguration of the congressional revolt against Balmaceda will be a very extensive affair.

"The police detectives who for some time past have been stationed in the vicinity of the American legation at Santiago, were called off today.

"The cruiser Presidente Errazuriz has returned from her trial trip. She averaged sixteen knots an hour during a two-hour run. It is said her full power is twenty knots."

THE BALTIMORE.

She Arrives at San Francisco—Interview with Capt. Schley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States cruiser Baltimore arrived here at 9:30 this morning from Valparaiso via Callao. Captain Schley was immediately interviewed by an Associated Press reporter. He stated that his report had been forwarded to Washington and he was not at liberty to make any statements concerning its contents. He stated, however, that he had seen no reason to modify his former telegraphic report based on the investigation of the Valparaiso mob by officers of the Baltimore.

"My men," said he, "thirty-four in number, entirely unarmed, were attacked at almost the same moment in half a dozen different parts of a district of the city a mile and a half wide, by mobs varying from 300 to 2000 men. Two were killed, five were seriously wounded and eighteen more were bruised and hurt. Every one of them was stabbed from behind, not one from in front. If my sailors had been armed they could have defended themselves for when even two of them turned to bay the Chileans fled. If they had had knives I believe that each one could have chased a dozen Chileans. The wounded are all well now, but I cannot permit them to be interviewed at present. The riot lasted about an hour and a half."

Capt. Schley's attention was called to the report of the Procurator Fiscal of the United States Supreme Court on Monday, answering the points in that filed in behalf of the Anarchists Fielden and Schwab. In substance, the reply asserts that the questions involved relate wholly to the internal police regulations of Chile; that no federal question is involved, and that petitioners have no right to be present at the hearing of the decision of the Supreme Court. It neither tried nor sentenced him, but merely passed on the record of the Cook County Criminal Court. The fixing of the day of execution is a ministerial act and the fixing of it in the absence of the prisoner is not denial of due process of law.

Nineteen Indictments Quashed. PEORIA (Ill.) Jan. 5.—Judge Shaw, of the Circuit Court, today quashed nineteen indictments hanging over J. F. Hoke. The ground for the decision was that the bank has not exercised proper diligence, having allowed three terms of the court to pass and Hoke having been extradited from Canada for only one offense, could not be tried on the others without an opportunity of getting back to Canada. He was cashier of the Merchants' National Bank here and got away with $18,000 for which he served five years in Joliet.

French Buyers After Prunes. (Pacific Rural.) The fact announced by the Associated Press today that J. E. It resulted from same sale and prices forwarded during the past autumn, and proves not only the superior product of the California article, but it opens the way for an unlimited market for all that California can raise. We understand that the offer is declined for the reason that the French dealers ask that the prunes be delivered in bulk, that they may put their own brands on them, whereas Mr. Gordon desires to have them go into market as a Santa Clara production. PARIS, Jan. 6.—The reply of Bulgaria to France's demand for the withdrawal of the decree of expulsion issued by the Bulgarian government against Chadoine, agent at Sofia of the agency Hava, the French news association, is regarded in official circles as a refusal of all French demands made in connection with the case.

COL. EVANS REPORTS.

Federal Officials at San Diego Severely Scored.

Government Suits in the Courts not Pressed Owing to Petty Squabbling and Smuggling Carried on Unrestrained.

By Telegram to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chronicle will say tomorrow that some facts were learned yesterday concerning the result of Special Agent Evans' investigation into the official conduct of Collector of Customs Berry of San Diego, and the system of loose smuggling across the southern borders. It appears from the report prepared by the special agent that anything but harmony prevails among the leading federal officers at San Diego. The collector complains that the United States marshal's office in San Diego has assumed a hostile attitude toward him. It is also stated that the district attorney, who recently resigned his office, neglected to push Government cases, and the report declares that federal litigation in the San Diego district is at a standstill on this account. Meanwhile the smuggling of horses across the line continues. It is estimated that in the past nine months 8000 horses have been smuggled into California, and that the Government revenue has sustained a loss of $90,000.

"There seems to be no way at present," said Col. Evans, yesterday, "by which this lawlessness can be stopped. The fact that the smugglers are well-to-do and influential people and that lots of cases are tied up accounts in part for this condition of things. Then again the line of demarcation is purely imaginary, and there are several instances when customs officers have pounced down on some rancher only to find that the horses they expected to seize are quietly grazing twenty feet off on Mexican territory. Of course officers cannot legally cross the line to effect a capture. A Mexican herder observes the officers and quietly leads the animals away. Next night the horses are taken over the line and by morning the ranchers have driven them out of the jurisdiction of the collector, or else have so mixed them up with hundreds of other horses that identification is out of the question."

Reply to the Anarchists' Appeal. SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) ## SHERMAN SURE TO WIN.

It is Now Only a Question of His Majority Over Foraker.

The Ex-Governor's Only Hope Now Based on a Secret Ballot.

His Followers Loud-mouthed Against the Administration.

They Threaten to Send a Blaine Delegation to the National Convention—Gen. Boynton's Defense of Sherman's Course.

By Telegram to the Times.

COLUMBUS (O.) Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The night before the great Senatorial battle finds the inevitable still staring the Foraker forces ominously in the face. To them all indications of the political situation point to defeat, but they have made a gallant battle, and the struggle has established beyond contradiction one significant fact—that Foraker is the unshaken idol of the young Republicans of Ohio. The declarations today of Dunn and Daugherty for Sherman add two more to the Senator's majority, and his friends now claim he will have 58 votes, while they give Foraker but 34, the remaining two being doubtful. Of course the Foraker people do not concede these claims. It is generally believed this evening that the Foraker managers are basing hopes upon the secret ballot. They think that should the ballot be secret many of those members who are confessedly for Foraker, but who have gone to Sherman in obedience to the will of their constituents, might break away. The Sherman people are loud in their demands for an open ballot by roll call, and maintain that everything should be fair and public. It looks tonight as though the open ballot idea would prevail.

The State Trade and Labor Assembly met today, and as was anticipated, attempted to solve the Senatorial question. The president of the assembly, at the recommendation of the assembly, not to interfere in the matter, but to let the State Trade and Labor Assembly introduce a resolution denouncing Sherman's Senatorial record. It was defeated, after considerable wrangling, but it is understood the Foraker men will revive the controversy tomorrow.

The press of Ohio this morning generally considers the contest at an end. The bitterness of the Foraker people toward the national administration is intense, and W. S. Cappellari of Mansfield, one of ex-Gov. Foraker's leading managers today said: "Whether Sherman be nominated or not, beyond this time he is a political blank in Ohio politics for the reason that he will have no future upon the political carpet. State or national, and while the outrageous interference of the federal administration, so conspicuous to all, admitted, it must be admitted that if the Harrison administration hopes to succeed itself and carry Ohio it will climb a barred wire fence if necessary to be friendly with Foraker and his following in this State. The Senatorial contest will leave sore places in every county, township and school district, and if McKinley, the incoming Governor, can comprehend and realize the situation and try to heal the wounds he will have performed an incredible feat. But there are those who believe that if Sherman is nominated for the Senate it will necessitate the nomination of Blaine for President to swing Ohio into the Republican column."

This statement of Cappellari being received as an admission that the Foraker people propose to array themselves against President Harrison and carry the State delegation to the national convention for Blaine or in the absence of his candidacy for Senator Cullom of Illinois or some other declared candidate for the Presidency.

For the first time in the contest the Sherman people give names and figures. Chairman Hahn, of the State Central Committee, said: "Sherman will have 56 votes. Fifteen of these will be Senators and 41 Representatives. If a vote were taken now that would be my estimate of the result. However, it may be increased."

Representative Dunn, who has been claimed by the Foraker people this morning came out unqualifiedly for Sherman.

SHERMAN DEFENDED. Gen. Boynton's Reply to the Attack of the "Labor Committee."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. Boynton being asked if he sent any reply to the telegram which the Columbus Labor Committee furnished the Associated Press, said: "No such dispatch reached me yesterday, from which I concluded no reply was wanted before their convention today. As to the Chinese question, concerning which the committee represents itself as inquiring, this is true: That Sherman's record from first to last on that subject, as well as in all other questions concerned with labor is one of wise, continuing and earnest efforts to advance every interest of American workmen. As to his attitude toward pensions, which is challenged by the questions asked, his position, which this committee represents as hostile to the soldiers, was distinctly stated in the debate by Senator Sherman to be based upon his convictions that the proposed measures did not go far enough to do the veterans full justice."

The First Grape Shipment Overland. (Dinuba (Tulare county) Dispatch.)

R. B. Blowers of Woodland shipped the first carload of grapes from California to Chicago. This was in 1869. He paid $1200 for the car and $270 for his passage there and return. The venture was a losing one from a pecuniary point of view, but he returned with a priceless experience, which showed him where he had been lacking in a knowledge of packing, what kinds of fruit would stand the journey best, and, above all, how to reach the fruit dealers promptly and create a demand for our product in the market. As a fruit raiser, some idea of the magnitude of his orchards and vineyards may be gleaned from the statement that he has paid the railroad company over $80,000 freight on his shipments East during the past twenty-two years.

WHERE?

Is there a corset of any make that is sold in this city today that stands as high, that is as popular, or is as well known as the Royal Worcester corset? And yet, the Royal Worcester has been sold in this city for about one year only. There is merit in the Royal Worcester, or it never would have sprung into popularity so quickly. There is no dollar corset made that equals the Royal Worcester at $1, and when it comes to the better grades they are so much superior that the points can readily be seen by any one. When you buy a Royal Worcester corset you buy the best. All dressmakers will tell you this. They have their own interests at stake when they recommend an inferior fitting corset, and for this reason they recommend the Royal Worcester corset, because they know it is the best fitting. There is one thing sure. You never hear any one say anything against the Royal Worcester. All traveling men handling other brands of corset will say every time that the Royal Worcester is the hardest competition they meet. The sales in our corset department is doubling up, and while we are saying so much about corsets we will have a new story to tell you about the largest cloak department in a few days, and shoes as well. Shoes will be one of the departments that will be pushed to the front this year, and also the millinery department. Contracts have been let for the remodeling of this department, and as soon as the new goods are opened in the East they will be on their way here. The second floor is showing a big increase in sales.

A gold dollar is worth 100 Cents

North, South, East or West.

We have never been able to buy one for less. This fact should be considered by the would-be owner of an orange grove. A good thing costs money, and is always the cheapest in the end. We are in receipt of dozens of letters inquiring why we are asking from $100 to $200 per acre for Alessandro land, while there are thousands of acres, advertised in full length columns of as many newspapers at less than half the price. Our reply is:

Ours are Gold Dollars.

That never sell below par.

No prudent man will invest his money in any of these wildcat schemes, promising great returns for a small outlay; they are very enticing to the weary toiler on the stony farms of the East, looks well on paper, but never materialize; you put your money in but never get it back.

If you are coming to Southern California for health, profit, or both, you want to invest your money where there is not the least possible chance of failure. That place is

ALESSANDRO,

Which has everything in its favor: The most beautiful location; the finest climate in the world; the best soil; the best water right of any irrigation district in Southern California, and one of the strongest Companies back of it in the State, composed of men of unlimited means and business capacity, who have made a success of everything they have undertaken. Alessandro also owes its success not only to above, but largely to the character of the men who have come there to make it their future homes. A class of thrifty, intelligent, industrious men, who have already made their presence felt, and are living there today in moderate luxury, comfort and good health. With such a class of settlers already on the land and constantly arriving, we predict that

IN FOUR YEARS' TIME

Alessandro will be the Model City of Southern California.

He who invests his money today in Alessandro lands, is not only making no mistakes. Every new comer, every new length of pipe, every dollar laid out in improvement increases the value of every acre on the tract. While you sleep our land grows in value. People, "plenty of them," are rich today who bought land in Redlands four years ago, simply by the advance. He who buys Alessandro land now will reap the same reward and more, for the advance will be more rapid and sure. Full description, particulars, maps, etc., sent on application to

Report of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications.

What is Being Done for the Defense of the Country.

Speaker Crisp will not Preside in the House for Some Time.

The President Sends a Batch of Nominations to the Senate—An Attorney for Southern California in the List.

By Telegram to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The report of the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications, embracing from 1888 to 1891, was sent to Congress today. It says:

There are now certainly two great plants, the Watervliet and Bethlehem, where forgings up to 12-inch guns can be turned out with reasonable dispatch, and a gun factory where they can be finished, and the assembled types of 10 and 12-inch guns are completed and either tested or awaiting proof. It was expected that by January 1, 1892, the factory would have turned out nine 8-inch, five 10-inch and two 12-inch guns. Eleven guns of 8-inch calibre are under contract with the West Point foundry, 10 of 8-inch and 12-inch calibre are practically under contract with the Bethlehem Iron Company, seventy-three 12-inch sea coast mortars are under contract or completed. Types of gun and mortar carriages have been procured and are undergoing tests.

Considerable success has attended efforts to produce an American slow-burning, prismatic powder that shall render the United States independent of foreign manufacturers.

A beginning has been made in the construction of gun and mortar batteries for the protection of the most important ports, which will advance dealing with the whole line of defensive preparation. Let there be four years of continuance of similar legislation and activity and it can no longer be said that the United States is defenseless against foreign powers.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

Report of the Commission—Some Important Suggestions Offered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission states that there has been marked improvements during the year in the disposition of carriers toward compliance with the law, but as regard the duty of establishing and publishing rates, and charges, little progress has been made. Public grievances arising from the failure of carriers to comply with the law in these particulars are pointed out.

Upon the question of "connecting lines," the most important subject raised, is that of through routes and rates. The question of legislative power to compel connecting carriers to grant through facilities is discussed at length, and while the difficulties are acknowledged and explained, they are shown not to be inseparable. Attention is directed to the dissimilarity of the terms of various bills of lading in common use and the conflict of judicial opinion as respects rights and duties of shippers and carriers there under the proposed uniform bill of lading. The objections of shippers thereto are discussed and some of its features, especially the provision that property taken at carrier's risk shall be rated as one class higher than if at owner's risk, are disapproved.

The commission recommends a mode of proceeding before the commission and in courts to enforce the commission's orders, definite action to compel carriers to adopt uniform classification and that the last section of the act be amended that corporations as well as their employees and agents shall be indictable.

Speaker Crisp's Illness.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The condition of Speaker Crisp continues to improve, but it will probably be at least two weeks before his health will permit him to resume his duties as presiding officer. The Speaker was consulted as to his wishes in reference to a Speaker pro tem. of the House. He said the rules did not give him authority to name a temporary successor, and he did not wish to express any preference, but to leave it with members of the House influenced by him to select a Speaker pro tem. There was a general feeling in the part of Democrats in favor of the selection of McMillin. There was an informal meeting of the Rules Committee this morning. There was no disposition on the part of the Republican members to take advantage of any embarrassment arising from the Speaker's illness, and it was decided to permit the details of legislation to proceed without delay.

To Prevent Second Terms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Representative Pattison of Ohio, today introduced a joint resolution amending the Constitution by making the Presidential term five years and declaring an incumbent ineligible for reelection.

League of Democratic Clubs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A call was issued today by Chairman Wilson for a meeting on Wednesday, January 20, of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The President is now engaged in preparing a proclamation against those countries which have refused to enter into reciprocal trade relations with this country, and will probably have it ready for issuance before the end of the present week.

Assistant Attorney-General Maury has prepared defendant's brief in the case of George C. Merrick et al against the Secretary of the Treasury, better known as the "silver brick case." He rests his case on the law as declared by the Supreme Court, and declines to argue unless requested by the court.

Gen. Knaut was today placed on the retired list. The Cabinet meeting today was attended by all the members excepting Secretaries Blaine and Kilgore.

AN OCTOGENARIAN SOLDIER.

Quartermaster Sergeant Connor's Long Service in the Militia.

Quartermaster Sergeant James Edward Connor, of the Eighth regiment of the national guard of New York, is the oldest militiaman in the United States, not only in years, but in continuous service. On Sept. 11, 1848, he joined the militia, and has missed fewer drills and encampments since than many militiamen do in five years. What is of more importance to the journalist, he has been a close observer all this time, and can detail every change from tactics and the old-fashioned down to the breechloader and Upton tactics.

On reaching his eighty-third year he decided to resign, alleging that he was no longer able to do the duties of quartermaster sergeant, but Colonel George D. Scott, of the Eighth, flatly refused to receive his resignation on such grounds, as signing a younger man to do the work and giving the old sergeant exemption from drill whenever he felt indisposed. Mr. Connor was born Jan. 16, 1808, in Newark, N. J., and felt his first promptings to militia training at the age of five, when the second war with England began to grow exciting. He removed to New York City in boyhood, and has resided there ever since. After a variety of experiences in temporary militia companies he joined the Sixth regiment, known as the "Governor's Guards," in 1848, and has remained in that and his successor ever since.

He has seen some active service, too, as the city militia has repeatedly been called out in riotous times. He started to the front in 1861, but all the men over fifty years of age were weeded out and he was one of them. Despite his eighty-three years he handles a gun splendidly, seldom misses a drill and is under canvas with his company during the whole annual encampment. His particular pride is the handsome new armory of the Eighth on Park avenue and Ninety-fourth street, and he wears several medals for marksmanship and good service.

Baptism of a Colored Giant. The Mount Olivet Baptist church in West Fifty-third street is the fashionable American house of worship in New York City. It is a large and commodious edifice, but its capacity was taxed to the utmost the other Sunday, the attraction being the baptism of John A. Seaton, who is a giant physically as well as a giant of influence among the colored residents of Gotham.

Stories About the White House. A historical fact not generally known is that the president's house narrowly escaped being a congress house. In 1789, when the government was in session in a mud-hole on the Potomac, and had run short of funds, a proposition was made that work on the Capitol be stopped and that the White House be fitted up for the use of congress. Estimates were secured on the cost of doing the work, and if President John Adams hadn't interfered, the completion of the building might have been delayed for many years.

Another source of annoyance was the disposition made of the great carpet presented to General Grant by the Sultan of Turkey. It was really an immense Turkish rug, and of course it was put in the East room. So somebody cut it up and sewed it together with a pucker, skewering seam fit to give a man of good taste a headache. This was so ugly that they took it out altogether, and out the great rug into still smaller pieces, until there was a time, and finally they decided to now take up to some rather modest houses in this town where the mistresses and masters boast that their floors are covered by the rug which the Sultan of Turkey presented to General Grant. Following the rug came a carpet as bad as a brick. Colors were colors, and finally they decided to take the carpet up and put in this case the carpet was painfully conspicuous.

The Pan Republic Congress. The pan republic congress committee at its two days' session held in Philadelphia designated Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., and William O. McDowell as delegates to the meeting of the International Peace league soon to be held at Rome, Italy. The Human Freedom society constituted at this meeting adopted as its emblem the flag of the nation participating nearest in a white field. The league is to comprise charter members the membership of all organizations in the world which in their organic law favor liberty, constitutional government and free institutions. All such are invited to send names and address to William O. McDowell, chairman of the organizing committee, Newark, N. J. The general committee adjourned to meet at Omaha, April 10, 1892.

To Open the Cherokee Strip. TABLET (I. T.) Jan. 5.—The Cherokee Council has formally ratified the agreement made by the commissions representing the United States and Cherokee nation with relation to the Cherokee strip, and now all that remains to be done is to throw open the land to white settlement. The Congress shall ratify the agreement.

Burned to Death. LINCOLN (Neb.) Jan. 5.—Near Clay Center yesterday Mrs. Frazier Troxell and her little child were burned to death by an explosion of gasoline, which set fire to their clothing.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

The Roads Refuse to Reduce the Orange Rates.

Ralph Rogers will Fight for His Annual Pass.

Some Interesting Litigation is Promised as a Result.

When to Expect the Rio Grande Western Magnates—The Terminal's Construction Department—General and Local.

A meeting of representatives of transcontinental roads was held in Chicago yesterday to consider a proposition to reduce the rates on oranges from California points. The recent frost in Southern California has so damaged the orange crop that shippers have united in requesting the railroads to reduce the rate from the present basis of $1.25 to 90 cents per hundred pounds. One road objected to the reduction and the request could not be granted, although all other lines were willing to do so.

RALPH ROGERS AND HIS PASS.

The Los Angeles Terminal Railroad Company will have an opportunity to fight a test case in the courts to settle a disputed pass question. Ever since the Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale road was built through Garvanza, Ralph Rogers, a well-known citizen of the place, has carried an annual pass on the road, which, upon changing ownership, was given its present name, Los Angeles Terminal. He received this pass, it is said, as one consideration for certain rights ceded to the railroad company by Rogers, and he claims that the company promised him free rides for life. The present management of the road, wishing to test Mr. Rogers' rights, refused to renew his annual pass on the 1st of the year 1892, on the ground that the company is not bound to carry out the promises made by the former organization. Though Mr. Rogers had a paper for a new pass, he undertook to ride as usual on a Terminal train on New Year's day. Conductor J. F. Wheeldon asked his passenger to "show up." As Mr. Rogers' pass had expired at midnight the night before it was of no good, and he refused to produce a ticket or cash for his fare. The conductor expected to see them here during December, but has heard nothing about them recently except that they were booked to visit Salt Lake City in a few days, and that information he obtained from The Times. Notes Picked Up Here and There About Town—Personal Items of Interest—The News in Brief.

[Branch office, No. 50 East Colorado street, where news advertisements and orders for this paper are received.]

The local branch of the Salvation Army was visited yesterday by prominent officers from abroad and a Los Angeles brass band. In the afternoon a meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, in which the members of the ladies' union prayer meeting participated. In the evening a second meeting was held at Williams's Hall, on which occasion Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Farey and Mr. and Mrs. Hart and their children were sworn into active service.

The army here is certainly deserving of credit for the pluck and perseverance it has displayed. In the face of innumerable obstacles and the ridicule of the populace, a faithful few of the red-shirted warriors have stood by the flag and won more than one hard earned battle, until now a leading church in town is thrown open to their use, and several prominent citizens of town with their families have been led to confess their faith in the sincerity and good of the organization by joining it.

However much their mode of action may be criticized, the fact remains that the members of the army here have in a quiet manner done much good and rendered aid and comfort to many a one in distress. Judging by yesterday's meeting, the army is evidently here to stay, and will doubtless carry on a good work in its own peculiar way.

Monroe. We have not space to describe it at length, and will only particularize far enough to refer to the botanical specimens, those illustrating in single specimens the work in history, science and drawing, and also maps and drawings from nature forms. Some of the caricature drawing is also worthy of mention. Pasadena has a reputation for its art, and this exhibition of the work of her little folks."

THE CITRUS FAIR.

San Bernardino County Will Be Heard From With a Fine Exhibit.

At a meeting of the Board of Agriculture at San Bernardino last Saturday the following resolutions relative to the coming citrus fair were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the fruit-growers of San Bernardino county have in the past won the highest premiums at the State citrus fairs held in Los Angeles, thus placing this county in the front as containing the very cream of the real citrus belt of the State; and whereas, another State citrus fair is to be held at Los Angeles, commencing on the 24 day of March, 1892; and whereas, we believe it to be the best public policy of this county to retain its position at the head of the list of citrus fruit-growing sections, and maintain the high reputation it has already established in that branch of fruit culture; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Board of Agriculture of the Twenty-eighth District Agricultural Association (San Bernardino county) that we urge the fruit-growers of the county to take action to make the finest and best exhibit of citrus fruits at the coming State Citrus Fair ever made in this State, to the end that the premiums and honors that this exhibit may still further emphasize the fact that we produce the finest citrus fruits to be had in the State.

Resolved, that the fruit-growers in making that exhibit should carefully select specimens of fruit placed on exhibition, and that none but perfect fruit should be taken to the fair, as experience shows that careful selections of fruit is better than a large display.

Resolved, that our fruit-growers are also requested to save some of their finest fruit for the fair to be held in this county by the association, at some time and place hereafter to be determined, as a programme is being arranged for the forthcoming district fair that will excel anything heretofore given the public in this county.

TWO TELLING PAPERS.

A Ten Years' Showing for Los Angeles City and County.

The Decennial Anniversary Number of THE TIMES, published December 4, 1891, and the Annual Trade Number, published January 1, 1892, are issues of exceptional merit, making together three full sheets filled with solid information about the rare country of the Southern Pacific Slope.

Citizens spread these publications abroad by hundreds and thousands of copies! They are the most interesting and effective missionary agents that can be sent out, by reason, particularly, of the ten years' showing and contrast presented in their columns. They are distinctively Los Angeles publications, and make the city and county luminous.

All the matter in these issues is of permanent interest—the merely ephemeral portions having been eliminated. They will, therefore, be timely for months to come; but now is the best time to circulate them, and 100,000 copies can be supplied for that purpose.

Orders sent to the counting-room—by mail, messenger or Times carriers—will be carefully filled.

The two papers, wrapped together and postpaid, 10 cents. Prices in lots: 5 copies, 50 cents; 10 copies, $1.00. Send your distant friend the two papers and enlighten him about Los Angeles and surroundings.

SANTA ANA.

Monday night will long be remembered by wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the members of Co. F, Ninth Regiment, N.G.C., as well as by the members of the company themselves. The occasion was the second anniversary of the company, and a most enjoyable affair it was.

On Wednesday night, January 6, the company will be two years old, and as the nearest regular drill night was on Monday, January 4, this was the evening chosen for the celebration.

At 8 p.m. sharp, Bugler Sexton advanced to the center of Armory Hall and sounded the assembly call. "Fall in! Fall in!" was the command from Sergt. Hall, and the boys quickly took their places, coming to a "right dress" according to the new tactics, and facing the ladies who were seated on the east side of the hall. A lively drill, in which the boys participated with a will, was given by Capt. Matthews and Lieut. Uim and Roper. Roll was called and the company immediately at "mess call," at which the boys in blue marched to their lady friends, accompanying them to the Hotel Brunswick dining parlors where a most excellent spread consisting of all the delicacies of the season as well as the substantial, was discussed. The dining parlors were elaborately decorated with the national colors and evergreens, beautiful bouquets of the choicest flowers adorning the heavily laden tables. The menu was all that could be desired and the ladies were in high spirits and drawing and also maps and drawings from nature forms.

Some of the caricature drawing is also worthy of mention. Pasadena has a reputation for its art, and this exhibition of the work of her little folks."

TUSTIN.

The following through freight in carload lots was shipped from the Tustin branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad for the year ending December, 1891: Thirty-seven cars of stock, 3,690,000 pounds of barley, 180,000 pounds of corn, 120,000 pounds of potatoes, 90,000 pounds of onions, 30,000 pounds of peanuts, 30,000 pounds of walnuts, 30,000 pounds of beans and 17,750 boxes of oranges.

The above shipments represent but a small portion of the products of Tustin. By a close approximation the last year's crop of oranges for Tustin was 70,000 boxes, or 233 carloads. Had our total orange crop been shipped from the Tustin depot it would have made it the third largest orange shipping depot in Southern California, Riverside and Los Angeles being the first and second.

Our local railroad is not patronized as well as it might be for various reasons. First, the storage accommodations for produce are entirely inadequate. There are at present stored in Santa Ana between 50,000 and 60,000 sacks of barley that were hauled from the San Joaquin ranch right past the Tustin depot. The ranch raised last year about 200,000 sacks of barley and 5000 sacks of wheat, besides hay, corn, beans, etc. If this is a favorable year a much larger acreage will be cultivated and the barley crop alone will probably reach 300,000 sacks. Tustin being less than half the distance between the ranch and Santa Ana, it is reasonable to suppose it would be the shipping point, if storage facilities were afforded. Our local passenger train, as it is run at present, is no accommodation and our people have got into the habit of going by way of Santa Ana. Our people feel friendly toward the Southern Pacific Railroad, and there is no reason why our depot cannot be our principal shipping point.

L.O.O.F. installed their officers for the ensuing term Monday night. Invitations were issued to the various lodges in Orange county, and a large number of visiting brothers were present.

After the installation a banquet was spread in the large room under the hall and the boys enjoyed themselves as Odd Fellows know how to do under such circumstances.

There is some delay in the transfer of the town water system from the water company to the municipality, and the water company will collect the town rates for the present quarter.

Arrangements have been completed for the Sherwood recital at the A.O.U.W. Hall this evening. The affair promises to be a success.

The new officers of the Odd Fellows were installed Saturday evening, and of the Workmen Monday evening.

Two carloads of lumber were sent East over the Santa Fe last week; there are fully two carloads more to be shipped.

The Plaintiff Tells Her Story on the Witness Stand.

Indignities Put Upon Her in Her Husband's Home.

Annoyed by His Son Tommy—An Attempt at Suicide by Taking Morphine—Deposition of Mrs. Storke's Aunt.

[Branch office, No. 718 State street, where news advertisements and orders for this paper are received.]

The Storke divorce case was again on trial yesterday in the Superior Court. Yda Addis Storke, the plaintiff, was again on the stand, but as the trial is being conducted with closed doors it was not possible to get much of the testimony. At noon the direct examination of the witness had not been concluded.

While on the stand yesterday morning Mrs. Storke testified among other things that Mr. Storke supplied her with only $75 a month for household expenses. There was plenty of food such as it was, but it was too plain for her delicate stomach. In the line of clothing he did not even get her as much as a spool of thread. She never asked Storke for anything; supposed he ought to know what she wanted.

He would not allow her to run any bills, and she did not have any money with which to pay her car fare.

She also testified that on January 18 she took morphine to soothe her nerves. Before marriage witness was in good health, but afterward in October, 1890, her health was very poor and she was at times very nervous. In June she was drinking two bottles of port wine every thirty-six hours to keep up her nerves.

Another subject causing a great deal of trouble was the son, Tommy. Mr. Storke had promised to send him away to school, and afterward refused to do so.

When the morning session closed she was about to relate the story of her return to Santa Barbara from San Francisco the last time. The cross-examination of the witness began about 2:30 yesterday afternoon.

The deposition of Mary Hillis Short, Mrs. Storke's aunt, introduced on the first day of the trial, related some of the acts of Mr. Storke, which she claims to have witnessed while residing with Mr. and Mrs. Storke in Santa Barbara. One of them that Mrs. Storke seized Mrs. Storke and threw her on the bed and shook her severely. It also stated that the plaintiff was cruelly abused by both Mr. Storke and Tommy, that Mr. Storke often used obscene language in the dining-room, and that he attempted

THE RACES RESUMED.

Third Day of the Winter Meeting.

The Sport First-class but the Attendance Very Slim.

The Talent Got Away with Three Out of Four Events.

Motto, Acclaim, The Jew and Idaho Chief the Winners—All of the Races Well Contested—Today's Programme.

The attendance at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, for the third day of the holiday race meeting, under the management of the Los Angeles Association, was very slim, not over 300 people being within the inclosure when the first race was run, at 2:15 o'clock. In spite of this discouraging feature, however, the sport provided was, on the whole, above the average, and deserved much better patronage, although the management cannot expect to tempt people to return, by keeping them waiting over an hour to see the start in a half-mile race, as was the case yesterday.

The track, though not as fast as before last week's rain, was in good condition, and the weather was perfect for racing.

The talent had things all its own way, with the single exception of the half-mile heat race, which was captured by the Jew in two straight heats, the favorite, Jim Duffy, being left at the post in the second heat.

FIRST RACE.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the horses were called out for the first event on the card, a seven-furlong handicap for two-year-olds, for which Motto, Capistrano, Combat and Bridal Girl entered the arena. The first-named filly was at once constituted a hot favorite, the other three going begging at odds of 20 to 1. The betting for place was rather more interesting, however, Bridal Girl being first choice, and the result proved that the confidence reposed in them was not unfounded.

The flag fell to a straggling start, after a very slight delay, Motto having two lengths the best of Combat and Bridal Girl, with Capistrano away behind. So they ran to the back stretch, when Bridal Girl passed Combat and attempted to get on even terms with the favorite. At the half, however, Motto was still in the lead, and gradually stealing away from her competitors. Turning into the stretch the favorite had a clear lead of two open lengths from Bridal Girl, while Combat trailed along about the same distance behind her. Capistrano being four lengths in the rear, and the race, which was never in doubt, resulted in the easy victory for Motto, who won, under a pull, in 1:31 3/4.

SECOND RACE.

The second race, a mile handicap for all ages, brought out Acclaim, John Treat, Ben H. and Request. The talent plunged on Acclaim, who was pronounced favorite at odds of 1 to 6, but the local sports played the veteran gray, John Treat, and "went broke" to a man.

The quartette was sent away to another poor start, Request being in the lead, two lengths from Acclaim and Ben H., with John Treat in the rear. At the first turn, however, the favorite went to the front and made the pace a hot one down the backstretch. At the half-mile post Treat began to move up, and as they rounded the turn got within dangerous proximity of the favorite and Request dropped back and gave way to Ben H. At the head of the stretch the gray challenged Acclaim, but the filly was game and after a desperate struggle beat the veteran home by half a length in 1:42 1/4. Two lengths separated second and third. Request finished last.

THIRD RACE.

Another field of four turned out to compete for the third event, the "Cabinet" purse, a half-mile heat race. The "sprinters" were Jim Duffy, who was chosen favorite, Ida Glenn, The Jew and Hercules. The first heat proved to be a genuine surprise party, as The Jew romped home the winner by a neck from Jim Duffy. This victory had the effect of placing him at the top of the list, before the next heat was run, and the result was that the talent recovered its losses, as he won both heat and race by a head from Hercules.

First heat: The horses were at the post for 1 hour and 12 minutes, during which time there were innumerable breaks, caused by the vagaries of Jim Duffy and The Jew. The quartette finally got off with Ida Glenn in the lead. The Jew closed up and Jim Duffy and Hercules strung out. The mare set the pace in elegant style, and the heat seemed a foregone conclusion for her, but on entering the stretch The Jew and Jim Duffy came with a rush, and the mare fell back beaten. A nip-and-tuck finish resulted in a victory for The Jew by a neck from Jim Duffy in 48 1/2 seconds. Hercules finished last.

Starter Smith was evidently determined not to waste any more time when the horses again went to the post for the second heat, for at the very first attempt they were given the word, the result being that Jim Duffy was left at the post. Hercules led to the turn with Ida Glenn close up and The Jew three open lengths behind, but as they reached the home stretch Sullivan plied both whip and spur, and The Jew, responding nobly to the call, came down with an invincible rush and just snatched the race from Hercules by a head in the last time of 48 1/2 seconds.

FOURTH RACE.

The last event on the card, a special three-quarter-mile dash, for which there were but three contestants, Idaho Chief, Rube and King George, proved an easy victory for the favorite, Idaho Chief, and the talent went home rejoicing.

Very little time was wasted at the post, and the trio got off with Rube in the lead and Idaho Chief and King George close up in the order named. So they ran to the half post, when the favorite lengthened his stride, and as they turned for the first time, passed Rube. The race was no longer in doubt, and Idaho Chief won handsily from King George by three-fourths of a length, in 1:15 1/4.

The race between King George and Rube for second place was very exciting, but the gelding was beaten out.

Scrofula
In Its Worst Form—"White Swelling" Cured.
The remarkable effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the following case illustrates the power of this medicine over all blood diseases:
"My son, 7 years old, had a white swelling come on his right leg below the knee, which contracted the muscles so that his leg was drawn up at right angles. Physicians lanced the swelling, which discharged freely, but did not help him materially. I considered him
A Confirmed Cripple.
I was about to take him to Cincinnati for an operation, expecting his leg would have to be taken off, and began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla in order to get up his strength. The medicine woke up his appetite, and soon pieces of bone were discharged from the sore. We continued with Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it seemed to be doing him so much good, and the discharge from the sore decreased, the swelling went down, the leg straightened out, and in a few months he had perfect use of his leg. He is now apparently as well as ever." JOHN L. MCKINNEY, Notary Public, Ravenswood, W. Va.

LEWIS, THE LEADING SHOE HOUSE

A Resume of Our Holiday Trade.

WE HAD a very satisfactory Holiday Trade. It was fully equal in volume of business to any month during the boom. True, we went to a great expense but the public appreciated our efforts and rallied to our support in fine style. Our great gifts of toys were appreciated by thousands. The little folks were gratified without expense to parents; to many it was the richest Christmas they ever had. Of course, in doing such an immense business, the stock necessarily became badly broken. Thousands of dollars worth of advance orders had been placed, however, and the telegraph was called into requisition to hurry them through. Now we don't like the idea of carrying broken sizes in stock and in order to hurry them out of the house a cut in prices has been made.

SUMMARY

NEVER before has there been offered to the public a book of reference approaching this in completeness, compactness, or cheapness. It contains 720 pages of encyclopedic information, condensed from the most reliable sources, and is a condensed form, stripped of unnecessary verbiage, the very cream of the Encyclopedia Britannica and the latest edition of Chambers's Encyclopedia, with the addition of a great many American subjects found in neither of the larger encyclopedias.

Besides being a comprehensive gazetteer of universal knowledge, it is also a complete Atlas of the World, containing eighty full-page maps. Some idea may be gained of the magnitude of this wonderful work and the vast number of subjects treated of, from the following table:

Number of Pages.	Size of Page.	Total Number of Pages.	Total Number of Words.	Number of Subjects.	Total Length of Columns, Inches.	Number of Words for One Cent.
720	7 3/4 x 10	200,800	1,700,000	18,000	21,600	3,500

If the columns were placed end to end they would reach over one-third of a mile. Just think of 1,700,000 words, compiled from the latest sources, on 18,000 subjects, at a daily interest to everybody, for a sum per word that requires five figures to express the fraction, and 80 Full-Page Maps, Free.

The whole forming the largest, latest, and most complete Family Cyclopaedia ever produced. The maps are corrected to date and beautifully colored by the publishers' celebrated patent plate process to distinguish states and political boundaries. The type is new and clear, the paper good and firm.

The ordinary price of this entire book, containing these maps, would be at least as much as the retail price of the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKLY MIRROR, for the unprecedentedly low price of $3.80! Or it will be furnished with the Daily Times one year, all for $11.95. For further information address

THE COURTS.

"Lewis the Light" at Last Adjudged Insane.

Committed to Agnew's After Examination by a Commission.

The Monotony of the Cohn Contest Broken by a Lively Tilt.

A Busy Day in Department One—Gibbs and Stump Enter Pleas of Not Guilty—An Inconceivable Commitment to Whittier—The Federal Court.

In Department Three yesterday, Lewis Greenslade, better known as "Lewis the Light," was ordered sent to the asylum at Agnew's, after a commission had investigated his brain and reported it in a diseased condition.

Greenslade, it is said, has been in an insane asylum in the East, and has also been examined for insanity once or twice before the courts of this county, but in each case was discharged, as he was not considered dangerous. Of late, however, he has taken to writing threatening letters to the judges and other county officials, and it was not considered safe for him to be at large.

THE COHN CONTEST.

Eight more witnesses were examined in the Cohn case. In Department Two yesterday, the object being to show that Delphina was only the mistress of Cohn. During the trial there was quite a verbal passage at arms between Attorneys White and Shinn. The case will be continued today and for several more days to come.

BUSY DAY IN DEPARTMENT ONE.

In department One yesterday, in the case of the people vs. Edward A. Gibbs, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, the demurrer was overruled and defendant entered a plea of not guilty. The trial was set for Monday, February 1.

J. K. Stump, against whom information for forgery was filed on Monday, was arraigned and also pleaded not guilty. He will be tried on January 20.

In the case of the people vs. Albert Asevedo, notice of appeal and a certificate of probate cause were filed.

H. C. Crail, who came up on habeas corpus on a charge of perjury, was discharged.

H. C. Jackson had been sent up from Downey by the local justice on a charge of burglary. On motion of the District Attorney, and for the reason that the testimony on the preliminary examination shows that the defendant committed petty larceny, the prosecution was dismissed and the defendant remanded to the justice court on trial for petty larceny.

Guy Roberts, an incorrigible, was on complaint of his mother, Bessie E. Roberts, sent to the Whittier Reformatory for two years. The boy had been working for a butcher in East Los Angeles and was discharged, after which it was discovered that he had collected and appropriated to his own use over $40. His former employers agreed to his commitment to the reformatory school.

On motion of T. J. Creighton, and on presentation of a certificate from the Supreme Court of Ohio, Charles Swalm was admitted to practice in the Superior Courts of Los Angeles county. Complaint was filed against Charles Fisher, who was brought up from Compton on a charge of insanity. He will be examined tomorrow.

HORSE TRIED DEAD.

In Judge Stanton's court James McDonald, alias James R. Brown, was held for stealing a horse from A. M. Foster on the Glendale road. There was no defense, and McDonald was held on a bond of $1400. He is only 20 years of age, and looks younger. The horse was taken to Pasadena and exchanged for another one, which McDonald sought to sell to Mr. Wickersham, when he was arrested.

IN THE FEDERAL COURT.

In the United States Court the case of Louis Myers, the counterfeiter who was recently captured in Kern County, was continued until the 8th inst., owing to the sickness of one of the witnesses, who is prostrated by the grip.

In the case of the United States vs. Porter, a decision was rendered by Judge Ross for the defendant. The suit was brought to declare null a patent for a homestead.

A motion in behalf of the plaintiff was denied in the case of Charles E. Anthony vs. the Mexican Land and Colonization Company, limited, also in the case of A. W. Anthony vs. the same.

In the case of the Los Angeles Mining Company vs. the Placerville Mining, Milling and Water Company the demurrer was sustained with leave to amend in the usual time. Similar action was taken in the cases of A. C. Withermer, W. A. Morralls and James E. Witherow vs. the Placerville company.

A decree was ordered and signed in open court in the case of the United States vs. Chatham Helm, an action to set aside a patent for 160 acres of land in San Diego county, a homestead entry in favor of the United States.

NEW SUITS.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Anderson Rose vs. Elizabeth Pearson, for restoration of leased property on Los Angeles street, known as the New Natick House.

Central National Bank vs. Clara D. Thomson, H. M. Thomson her husband, Harriet G. O'Brien and John L. Bryan, Maria G. Buford and Joseph B. Buford to recover on a promissory note for $1678.28.

Creditors' petition in insolvency in the case of Michael T. Herzog.

Chamber of Commerce.

A. C. Thomson of Duarte sent to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday a box of fine oranges, lemons and limes. The oranges are of the Washington navel variety and are samples of those which were awarded the first premium over thirty-seven competitors at both citrus fairs held in Los Angeles.

Pomona has sent up 4000 copies of the Pomona edition of THE TIMES.

Applications are received every day at the Chamber from young Englishmen just arrived who are anxious to learn the fruit and farming industry of Southern California. These young men intend to eventually settle here and therefore want to learn the practical details of horticulture as carried on here.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Death of an Old Resident—Social Entertainments—Victims of the Grip.

E. B. Leonard, an old resident of the Heights, of late connected with the railway mail service, died at his home on Pennsylvania avenue on Monday of la grippe. The funeral will take place from the family residence today.

Monday evening there was a pleasant surprise party in honor of Harry Johnson at his home, corner of Brooklyn avenue and Cornwall street, a large number of his young friends spending the evening most enjoyably with music, games and other social amusements.

Next Friday evening a number of the younger ladies of the Heights will give a masquerade party to their gentlemen friends at Hendricks's Hall. The boys will be expected to furnish the refreshments, and in other ways it will be the aim to exactly reverse the conditions of party formalities as observed at other than leap-year gatherings.

It seems that the gripmen and other cable employees are no less susceptible to the prevailing influenza than ordinary mortals, no less than eleven of the attachés of the Chicago-street power-house being reported as on the sick list, the complaint in all cases being la grippe.

POLICE BUSINESS.

Weekly Meeting of the Commissioners Yesterday Afternoon.

The Usual Run of Saloon Matters Attended to—Charges Against Officers—Complaints Against Disreputable Houses.

The Police Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, with His Honor presiding and acting as secretary and Commissioners Lewis and Shatto present.

The City Tax and License Collector reported the following saloons out of business, and the licenses were revoked: J. B. Ramsey, No. 118 1/2 San Pedro street; P. J. McMahon, No. 284 New High street; M. R. Marotte, No. 700 Upper Main street.

A communication was received from J. B. Garibaldi, asking that some action be taken in the matter of the charges preferred by him against Officer Craig. On the statement that the papers in the case had been mislaid by ex-Commissioner Bryson, the secretary was instructed to notify Garibaldi to prefer new charges.

The application of Pedro Echard for the transfer of the saloon license now in the name of Pierre Beattie, the old Pico House bar, was taken up. Chief Glass stated that this was another move in the old Ballade matter, and the case was referred to the Chief for investigation and report.

The application of Fred Hoppe for a saloon license, No. 141 North Main street, formerly in the name of James McDonald, being in regular form, was granted.

The application of Edward Jeffries for a position on the force was received and filed.

The application of Anton I. Perry for a position as a special officer, without pay from the city was referred to the Chief for investigation.

A communication was read from the Central W. C. T. U., asking that the houses of prostitution on Alameda street between First and Aliso be removed, which communication was laid over for consultation when the full board is present.

Chief Glass reported that there were several very objectionable houses in the locality mentioned, but he thought they could be removed, and one had already closed up, which would probably help matters.

Several remonstrances were presented against allowing a license for the saloon at the corner of Turner and Alameda streets, formerly kept by the train robber, Sly, known in this city as Denton, which were filed pending the filing of an application for a license for the place.

The usual demands were presented and approved.

The Chief turned in $200, a reward paid Officer F. H. Steele for the capture of John Cusick, wanted in Arizona for robbing cars, which was covered into the reward and charity fund. Officer Steele then presented a demand in regular form for the money, which, on motion of Commissioner Lewis, was approved.

The Chief presented his monthly report as heretofore published, and the same was filed.

The Chief reported in the matter of the houses from Nos. 137 to 143 San Pedro street complained of as being kept for immoral purposes, that the case had been investigated by Detective Moffat, and while the reputation of the houses was bad, he had been unable to get any evidence that would be admitted, in case a criminal action was brought. The report was filed, and the officers on the beat instructed to keep a lookout, to see if a house of assignation is kept there, as alleged.

Sample & Bard, the proprietors of the "merry-go-round," at the corner of Upper Main and Bellevue avenue, preferred charges against Officer Craig, alleging that he unwarrantably interfered in their business, to their pecuniary loss, and asking that he be removed from the force. The case was referred to the Chief for investigation, to report at the next meeting.

The application of Vincenzo Rangan for a saloon license for No. 105 Upper Main street, being in regular form, with the necessary signatures of property-owners, was referred to the Chief for investigation, and if two-thirds of the frontage was represented on the petition to grant the request. Adjourned.

THE CIENEGA RANCH.

Another Case of Clouded Land Titles.

A Deed Made Thirty-Seven Years Ago Claimed to be Defective.

Over Three Hundred Actual Settlers Affected by the Issues Raised.

The Case Purely a Technical One, but the Owners Say They Cannot Get Their Cause Before the Courts for a Hearing.

The recent land-title agitation at Pomona, which resulted in clearing the cloud from the titles of the lands on the Palomares ranch, has aroused great interest all over the southern part of the State and attracted attention to several similar cases, one of which is the Cienega ranch case, which, it is claimed by the parties in interest, presents many features similar to that of the Palomares ranch at Pomona.

The Cienega ranch is about two miles southwest of the city, and is now intersected by Jefferson, Adams, Washington and Pico streets. The ranch formerly comprised 4000 acres, in which Mrs. Louis Garfias, a daughter of Gaudarrus Abila, held an undivided one-fourth interest. In 1853 Mrs. Garfias sold her interests in the ranch for $2000. The deed, which was duly recorded, recites that she had first received $1000, and afterward, on signing the instrument, the balance of the purchase price, $1000 more. The deed bears her signature, also that of her husband, also an acknowledgment by the notary public, with his signature. But the copy of the deed in the books of the County Recorder does not show the seal of the notary public, and it is shown that the woman was examined apart from her husband by the notary, as required by law at the time.

The ranch was afterward sold and resold, and subdivided and many families have bought small tracts, paid for them, and made their homes there, there now being some 300 families settled on a level of abstract companies and eminent attorneys for years gave abstracts and certificates pronouncing the titles to be good.

A few months ago these settlers received a summons in the Superior Court, by Moyer Wicks as attorney for Mrs. Garfias, who is an illiterate Mexican woman over 70 years of age, now living at Anaheim, to appear and answer why they should not be dispossessed of those lands, and suit was duly filed for that purpose. The present owners of the land joined forces for their defense, employed attorneys, and endeavored to secure a speedy hearing, confident that they would be able to get a legal decision sustaining their titles. So far the owners say they have been unable to get their case before the court. It has already been continued four times, but is now set for January 12. Owing, however, to the recent death of G. Tonone, it is claimed that it is more than likely that another continuance will be asked by the prosecution, and in the meantime they can do nothing with their property unless they pay Mrs. Garfias for a quit claim, which they object to doing, as they have paid for the land once and object to doing so again. These settlers also claim that Wicks, Mrs. Garfias's attorney, does not want the cases brought to trial, but wants the cloud kept on the titles, so the present owners will have to pay for quit-claim deeds. This, they say, makes a deadlock and they can do nothing. They claim that it is impossible to get justice, and are helpless unless they can get a hearing in the courts.

Just what steps are to be taken is not known, but the people are considerably stirred up, and in case another continuance is granted, a meeting will probably be called to formulate some plan of action.

WHAT MR. WICKS SAYS.

Mr. Wicks was seen at his office by a reporter, and also at The Times office, and when asked about the matter replied (as usual) that he did not think the newspapers were the proper places to try lawsuits, but as certain statements had been made, he did not object to stating the facts from his standpoint. He had been retained by Mrs. Garfias some months ago to look into the case, and see what rights, if any, she had in the Cienega ranch. He made an examination, as a result of which he came to the conclusion that she had a good technical law case, and he so advised her. It is true the deed is of record, but he is not prepared to say whether Mrs. Garfias received the money or not, or signed the deed, as she is an illiterate woman and can neither read nor write. The attorney said, however, that he presumed his client had received the purchase price originally. But whether she had or not, cuts, in his opinion, no figure in the case from a legal standpoint. He considers that the deed is fatally defective and that the legal title is still in Mrs. Garfias, unless it can be shown that she has lost her rights by adverse possession under the statute of limitation. This is the whole case, and it will have to be settled by the courts.

When asked whether or not money had been demanded for quit claims Mr. Wicks replied that several persons had called voluntarily and paid for quit claims, but said that no one had been invited to call at his office for that purpose.

The price originally demanded by the claimant as a consideration for signing quit-claim deeds was $10 per acre, but the prosecution is willing to settle now for a total round sum of $1000.

The case, Mr. Wicks said, is a purely technical one. If the deed is defective, and Mrs. Garfias chooses to take legal advantage of that defect she has a right to do so. Since the suit has been commenced he has made an offer of a compromise for a very trifling sum ($1000), as Mrs. Garfias is in destitute circumstances, and several of the attorneys for the occupants advised its acceptance as the best way out of the trouble. If this offer is not accepted, the matter will have to take its course in the courts.

The Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday assigned room 5 to R. F. House for his occupancy.

In regard to the petition for the opening of the Alameda street road, the board will visit Florence on the 12th, to investigate the matter.

The Assessor was allowed a deputy from January 6 to July 7, at a salary of $80 per month.

A number of demands were ordered paid.

THE ITATA HEARD FROM.

Report of Her Commander to the Chilean Government.

The San Diego Union of Monday contains the following item of local interest:

A copy of the Chilean Times, published at Valparaiso, containing the report of Commandante Tejada of the Itata to the Minister of Marine, has been received in the city. In his report Mr. Tejada details the incidents of his leaving Iquique under convoy of the Charleston and of the voyage to San Diego.

"On my arrival," says the commandante, "I passed a note to the District Attorney, Mr. Cole, in which I told him that by instructions received from your department I notified him that the Itata had returned to San Diego to be judged and was now at his disposal. To this note, sir, I had not the honor of receiving an answer, although I am certain that it reached the hands of the functionary to whom it was directed."

The report then details the causes of the delays and annoyances to which he was subjected and openly charges Mr. Cole with having endeavored to defeat an immediate adjustment of the matter. That when Judge Ross was obliged to go to San Francisco and postpone the hearing until September, the commandante had offered to pay all expenses of witnesses to the latter city to expedite matters, but Mr. Cole would not give his consent. That when the vessel had finally given bond it was again discredited for the "miserable sum of $200,000 costs, of loss and damage experienced by the cruiser Charleston in her persecution of the Itata."

Mr. Tejada also hauls Marshal Gard over the coals for removing the principal parts of the machinery of the Itata, and the delay caused by the marshal in not returning the parts to the ship after she had given bond. Also that the marshal had ordered the officers and crew ashore, but that he (Tejada) had telegraphed from San Francisco to Capt. Manzen to not obey the order and only submit to superior force. The report speaks very kindly of the citizens, and says that in many instances the press and public censured the action of the government.

A letter which accompanied the paper says that Capt. Manzen has been dismissed, both from the service of the steamship company and the government, his action while in this port not having been satisfactory to his employers. The latter also states that the Itata is taken apart and thoroughly overhauled, and is expected to be one of the finest steamers on the Sud-American line.

A PERTINENT REPLY.

State Analyst, Prof. Rising, Restates Some Baking Powder Facts.

A mean action generally recalls upon its author. Recently a baking powder concern has been attempting by the publication of cooked-up interviews and blackguard advertisements, to injure the reputation of the baking powder best known and most used in this community. This has brought out a letter from Prof. Rising, of the California State University and Analyst to the State Board of Health, in which he says:

"I wrote the report of the committee of the Mechanic's Fair on baking powders two years ago, awarding the medal to the Royal Baking Powder Company for the purity and care in the preparation of their baking powder. This report was made out after careful chemical analysis on my part and expressed my views at the time, and I have had no occasion to change my opinion of the merits of the Royal Baking Powder since. Please refer to that report."

The report to which Prof. Rising refers is as follows: "Your committee have made a very careful examination of the Royal Baking Powder, and are satisfied that it fulfills all the requirements which the public can make of a baking powder. For purity and care in preparation it equals any in the market, and our test shows that it has greater leavening power than any other of which we have any knowledge."

W. B. KILMER, State Analyst, Prof. Chemistry, University of Cal., etc.

W. T. WENZEL, Prof. Chemistry, University of Cal." The manufacturers of these new and low-grade baking powders will probably not again attempt to use the name of Prof. Rising in their efforts to delude the public.

THE FRUIT-GROWERS.

Meeting of the Directors of the Union Secretary's Report.

An important meeting of the directors of the Fruit-growers' Union was held yesterday at the office of the corporation.

The secretary read the report of the Executive Committee as to what they had done.

The committee reported that after much hard work they had perfected arrangements with influential houses by which the union is able to offer its members the very best of facilities for packing and disposing of their fruit. The union is now fully prepared to reach in the very best shape the markets of Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, New York, San Francisco and Portland and the Sound country, and in fact every market large and small throughout the United States. With its present connections the union is today in a position to properly handle and dispose of the whole crop of Southern California.

The union will pack all fruit under its own brand. A simple form of contract was adopted which growers wishing to ship through the union will sign. On motion, the whole report was approved and adopted.

The meeting was a very satisfactory one, and the directors feel that much progress has been made toward the solution of the problem of how to handle the orange crop.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

Two Men Badly Injured Returning from the Races.

A serious runaway that may prove fatal took place on Figueroa street last evening just after the races. C. S. Swain of Redlands and a Mr. Boynton attended the races in a buggy, and a few minutes after they left the park their horse became frightened and ran away.

He ran three or four blocks as fast as he could go, when the buggy capsize and both men were thrown violently to the ground. They were picked up in an unconscious state and taken to a house near by, when medical aid was called in.

Mr. Swain was badly cut about the head and face, but his skull was not fractured as was at first believed, and Mr. Boynton received some ugly bruises on the body and it is believed that he was injured internally.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5, 1891.

Eastern butter, with which the local market has been largely supplied for some months past, has almost disappeared. The supply in eastern markets has become light and prices have advanced too high to leave much of a margin for profit on shipments to the coast. The market in the best grades has risen to 3 1/2 cents per pound in Iowa and other butter-producing states. The cost of laying it down here is about 2 cents a pound more so that at 3 1/2 cents a pound here there is but 3 cents profit, and beyond that figure it cannot be sold in competition with California butter, and at this season of the year when rains and the consequent supply of feed are to be expected, local butter is likely to drop too low to make shipments from the East at all profitable.

A New York dispatch says: "There is a fair movement in California raisins for spot. Bids are very close to inside figures and are on carload lots to arrive. Canned fruit is neglected in a large way; unpicked peaches are weak; sacks, prime to choice, 60¢. These should obtain a motion as the season advances, as there seems to be no stock of competing Southern. Prunes are quiet and easy; five sizes sacks, 7¢. The recent rates for special sizes are now extreme, even in grocery lots.

There is little movement in dried fruits in this city, and dealers report very few sales.

Poultry is less plentiful than it was last week and quotations are higher.

Money, Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Money.—On call, easy; closing offered at 9 per cent.

PRIME MERCANTILE PAPER—4 1/2%.

ST. PETERSBURG EXCHANGE.—Firm; 60-day bills, 4 1/2%; demand, 4 1/4%.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—In spite of the reactionary temper prices on the stock market today were stubbornly held and some stocks even scored handsome advances.

The industrials were a feature for strength. No material loss occurred in anything.

Chicago Gas is up 3%. Distillery 1 1/2%. Northern Pacific preferred 1 1/4% and Cordage 1 per cent.

Government bonds were firm.
